Community

As you enter Badin you'll traverse tree lined curvilinear village streets and discover unique French Colonial era architecture. Garden City design elements add to the European flavor of the 1913 design planned community's quadruplexes, cottages and bungalows all in walking distance to Badin Lake and collectible shopping.

Educational Opportunities

Neighborhood schools are less common than they once were, but Badin Elementary School halls are graced by agile student minds on quests for knowledge. Students run the scholastic gauntlet with home often little more than a short walk or bike ride away. Badin police officers ensure student safety with a smile at the school crosswalk before and after school.

Looking Back

Badin's deep roots are thoroughly explored in the Badin Historic Museum located in the town's original one room kindergarten building. Badin Firehouse Museum houses a 1917 vintage fire truck which at the ready – for parade duty now rather than fire response as it once did. Badin Quadruplex Museum is a period accurate restoration for a 1920's quadruplex unit.

Lake and

Central to life in Badin is the splendid environment of beautiful water. The lake is a haven for kayakers, windsurfers and anglers. Free public access makes it a popular spot for family time activities including swimming, boating, picnicking and bird watching. While there are larger local avian residents but a plethora of smaller songsters as well. lake patrons are easily able to escape the metro hubbub and be in a natural shoreline and forest.
